Course details

The aim of this course is for students to hold competent conversations with Spanish speakers, understand much of what is said, and contribute relevant comments. This interactive course requires students to create a portfolio of spoken interactions and write a variety of text types in which they explore and justify varied ideas and perspectives in different situations. Students also deliver a two to three minute speech in Spanish. They study the following topics: the impact of globalisation in Latin America, multicultural society, and the media in the 21st century. Students also have regular conversation practice with our Spanish language assistant to help develop their speaking and listening skills.
